Bulletin for the week of November 21, 2021 VOL 26/73 NO 47

We are only days away from

Thanksgiving this year. I can fondly recall many memorable things my family did. Whether it was with my mother’s cousins, my dad’s family, or at my uncle’s I enjoyed the time with my family. This year I wanted to write two different articles starting with the first half of the holiday: Thanks.

As I grew up, my mother made sure I always said please and thank you and that I was grateful for whatever was given to me. To say thank you shows an appreciation to the recipient of the words. Oftentimes, we say thank you because something has been done for us. Maybe it was the person who opened the door for us or whoever put food on our plate.

We can say thank you and talk about what it means, but most of the time we do not get to understand the extent of how much what we have done impacts others or vice versa. Paul says in 2 Timothy 1:3 “I am thankful to God, whom I have served with a clear conscience as my ancestors did, when I remember you in my prayers as I do constantly night and day.”

In thinking about this holiday which we so often verbalize our thanks, I want us to take a moment and reflect on what we truly are thankful for. Yes it’s nice when people hold doors for us but focus on what we cherish. Dwell on the blessing the Lord God has given us in the people we have as brothers and sisters in Christ here and elsewhere. If we are actually thankful for the innumerable blessings, in which Christ’s sacrifice is the greatest, we will do something about it: Give.
