GIVING

Last week I ended the article by discussing how if we are actually thankful we will do something about it. To be Christian and to be thankful are one in the same. In Psalms there are over forty instances of where you can find the word “thanks” in the ESV. The word thanks does not stand alone though, as it is usually paired with the word give. In the Psalms the writer and those singing them give thanks and their praise to the Lord God.

Giving is not just something that is done in order to contribute to the church’s work. We are fortunate to give thanks by words of praise and song. As that is a necessary part of our lives as Christians it is such a blessing that we can give more. Giving is part of who our Creator is, being infinitely benevolent. We give not in an attempt to one up the Father but to demonstrate our thankfulness. To say thank you God for life, family and the blessings we have received in which Christ is the greatest.

We do not just love because he first loved us but we give to and for him because he first gave to and for us. I urge each of us to not allow the seasons to dictate when we give thanks abundantly. Thanksgiving and the holidays we are coming up on are wonderful times to be with loved ones and talk about what we appreciate. As Christians, let us strive to be servants imitating Christ in giving our lives in service to our Lord God. Mark 10:45 says, “For even the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many.”
