Appreciation

I have often heard the phrase, “You never know what you’ve got until it’s gone.” As a child, I was taught to be appreciative of what I had or to be grateful. Many of us tend to do a good job being grateful and thankful for the gifts we receive or the things we have when we are young. It is much more difficult to appreciate what we’ve come to take for granted.

One thing I learned not to take for granted was a drinking fountain at school or even drinking out of the tap at home. There was a massive amount of drinking water polluted when I was growing up. Something that had been so normal and accustomed by many was drastically changed. Similarly now, with my arm broken, I have been learning how I can accomplish everyday tasks with one arm or if I need help to do it.

Such thoughts lead me to thinking spiritually. If we overlook matters physically, we may also do it spiritually. I think there are at least two things we can take for granted: grace and mercy. According to Romans 5:20-21: “Now the law came in to increase the trespass, but where sin increased, grace abounded all the more, so that, as sin reigned in death, grace also might reign through righteousness leading to eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.” Psalm 28:1-2 says, “To you, O Lord, I call; my rock, be not deaf to me, lest, if you be silent to me, I become like those who go down to the pit. Hear the voice of my pleas for mercy, when I cry to you for help, when I lift up my hands toward your most holy sanctuary.”

As we come together today, later this week, and just everyday, take time to consider the things we take for granted. Appreciate those you have, the activities you get to do, and the time we get to worship and study God’s Word. Most of all be thankful for the grace and mercy our Father bestows upon us even though we do not deserve it. We did not deserve to have Christ bear our sins. Live lives that are an outstanding appreciation to our Creator!
