 Clear Skies
by Ben Rominske, minister

We have been blessed with some nice weather this past week around town. Sometimes you just have to take time to appreciate the beauty of that blue sky and the look of the clouds. All the while, I couldn't help but think about those dealing with Hurricane Ian. I had such pretty weather yet many had evacuated their homes or were planning to endure the harsh conditions.

I for one wouldn't wish ill on anyone but I am unable to control most things. To recognize the good fortune and comfort I have in contrast to the problems happening down there causes me to reflect. First and foremost I am immensely grateful for the peace and blessings I have now. Second, there will always be others going through tough times. So, when we interact with people let's take the situation and their actions with a grain of salt. Hardships are no excuse for sin and hatred towards others but we can have sympathy for what they are going through.

Third, and finally, if we are experiencing a time of peace remember inevitably we will encounter storms in life and the opposite is true! If you are experiencing hardships and struggles now they are only temporary. A storm which is slow and steady will pass eventually, that doesn't mean it won't be devastating but it does mean we can make it through.

1 Peter 1:3-4 says, "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! According to his great mercy, he has caused us to be born again to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance that is imperishable, undefiled, and unfading, kept in heaven for you." We have a hope and an inheritance that cannot be taken away by any hardship. Furthermore, we follow the source of true comfort.

2 Corinthians 1:3-5 says, "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our affliction, so that we may be able to comfort those who are in any affliction, with the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by God. For as we share abundantly in Christ's sufferings, so through Christ we share abundantly in comfort too." So enjoy the highs of life, and push through the lows awaiting the day when we clear the skies to go to our heavenly home.
