Derby Here We Come!

by Ben Rominske, minister

This weekend we have what droves of people look forward to all over the country, The Kentucky Derby. Recently I got to tour some of the grounds and learn a bit more about this event that is so special to our city. One phrase that stuck with me was "The Most Exciting Two Minutes in Sports". It is quite the claim to make but with almost 150 years and a great deal of money involved it seems to be substantiated.

Whether you plan to wear cool hats, partake in watching events, or enjoy flavors of mint, I want us to think about the claim of excitement. We all have our own interests in which we get excited for but there is one matter we ought to share: our salvation. I wanted to pick two verses to be able to say “The Most Exciting Two Verses in Scripture”. Yet I do not feel I can comfortably settle on a single pair.

I will say here is one verse that would’ve brought excitement when it was written and continues through this day, “The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ” (Mark 1:1). While the gospels tell many of the same events they each have their own style and purpose in how they convey why the gospel of Jesus Christ is good news.

Surely it is not a stretch to claim that our Savior dying for our sins is so exciting. Unlike the derby this weekend, there is not just one winner in Christ. Rather, all those that choose to follow him can be counted as having won. So many eyes will be on the mighty young thoroughbreds and their jockeys. Let us put before them the meek son of a carpenter who rode on a donkey.
