Can You Hear Me?

By Ben Rominske, minister

It has been a few months since I have been out of town on a Sunday, and while that makes sense as it is a crucial day, I cannot help but think of those here at Watterson Trail as we are down South. So, “Hi from Mississippi”. While technology has advanced a long way in the form of communication, the string and tin can trick always seems to be a favorite and that makes sense. It is very simple to put together as it only needs some soup cans and string/fishing/or the like. Yet even with such simplicity comes enjoyment and communication.

Thankfully, we have communication methods that make it easy for any of us to stay in touch regardless of where we are in the world. It is the simplicity in either respect that I want to focus on in this article. Yes, distance makes some communication more complicated. Yes, an email, text message, Facebook comment or the like may not communicate the tone and intent clearly. There is however one thing that never needs to be over complicated: The Gospel.

Hear me out, things will get complicated when we as imperfect people deal with our issues and try to balance our desires with the Lord’s will. The reality of the gospel and the choices we have are straightforward. Jesus, the Son of God died for our sins once and for all (Heb.7:27). Our choice is whether we want to live doing our best to honor that sacrifice or to indulge in our own sinful desires.

What is also great, is we have a bond with one another that connects us regardless of distance on this earth as each one of us has been brought closer to the Lord “But now in Christ Jesus you who once were far off have been brought near by the blood of Christ.” (Eph. 2:13). So today I hope and pray as you assemble it is uplifting and honorable to the Lord as we always strive to be, remembering just because there is some distance between us this morning, there is no distance between us in Christ Jesus.
