Reflections

From the desk of Ben Rominske, minister

I hope you have been able to listen to some of the lessons we got to hear this past week from God's Word which were brought to us by Mickey. If you did not get a chance to listen, they are all available on our facebook page (ask Ben if you need some instructions). I also hope some of these words come to mind when you reflect on last week: edified, refreshed, recharged, invigorated, confident, and peaceful. In an ever-changing world it can be chaotic. Yet God's unchanging plan, nature, and will ought to give us peace and confidence to approach the unknown.

After this week I am reminded of Acts 15:31-32, "31 And when they had read it [the letter], they [the congregation at Antioch] rejoiced because of its encouragement. 32 And Judas and Silas, who were themselves prophets, encouraged and strengthened the brothers and sisters with many words." I think the various words I gave earlier all tie into those two terms: encouraged and strengthened. I believe those words were even used by Mickey in reference to last week's events.

As we move forward, striving for what lies ahead, may we take all that we can from last week's lessons and the many times of fellowship, in order to better serve and glorify the Lord. I for one am hopeful for what we can do because Christ is the head of this church and we are His body. One will plant, another will water but it is God who gives the increase. As long as we lean on Him, as long as God is for us, who or what can stand against us?

Thank you Mickey and Cindi. Most of all, thank you God.
